OUR JUVENILES.

A Lesson for Mamma.

"Dear mamma, if you just could be
A tiny little girl like me,
And I your mamma, you would see
How nice I'd be to you.
I'd always let you have your way;
I'd never frown at you and say:
'You are behaving ill to-day;
Such conduct will not do.'

"I'd always give you jelly-cake
For breakfast, and I'd never shake
My head, and say: 'You must not take
So very large a slice.'
I'd never say: 'My dear, I trust
You will not make me say you must
Eat up your oat meal;' or, 'The crust
You'll find is very nice.'

"I'd buy you candy every day;
I'd go down-town with you, and say:
'What would my darling like? You may
Have anything you see.'
I'd never say: 'My pet, you know
'Tis bad for health and teeth, and so
I cannot let you have it. No;
It would be wrong in me.'

"And every day I'd let you wear
Your nicest dress, and never care
If it should get a great big tear;
I'd only say to you:
'My precious treasure, never mind,
For all e clothes will tear, I find.'
Now, mamma, wouldn't that be kind?
That 's just what I should do.

"If I never say: 'Well, just a few!'
I'd let you stop your lessons, too;
I'd say: 'They are too hard for you,
Poor child, to understand.'
I'd put the books and slates away;
You shouldn't do a thing but play,
And have a party every day.
Ah-h-h, wouldn't that be grand!

"But, mamma dear, you cannot grow
Into a little girl, you know,
And I can't be your mamma; so
The only thing to do
Is just for you to try and see
How very, very nice 'twould be
For you to do all this for me.
Now, mamma, couldn't you?"

—St. Nicholas.

An Awful Scene.

I have the same old, old story to tell. My conduct has been such again—at any rate, that's what father says; and I've had to go up stairs with him, and I needn't explain what that means. It seems very hard, for I'd tried to do my very best, and I'd heard Sue say, "That boy hasn't misbehaved for two days; good gracious I wonder what can be the matter with him." There's a fatal litty about it, I'm sure. Poor father! I must give him an awful lot of trouble, and I know he's had to get two new bamboo canes this winter just because I've done so wrong, though I never meant to do it.

It happened on account of coasting. We've got a magnificent hill. The road runs straight down the middle of it, and all you have to do is to keep on the road. There's a fence on one side, and, if you run into it, something has got to break. John Kruger, who is a stupid sort of a fellow, ran into it last week head first, and smashed three pickets, and everybody said it was a mercy he hit it with his head, or he might have broken some of his bones, and hurt himself. There isn't any fence on the other side, but if you run off the road on that side you'll go down the side of a hill that's steeper than the roof of the Episcopal Church, and about a mile long, with a brook full of stones down at the bottom.

The other night Mr. Travers said—But I forgot to say that Mr. Martin is back again, and coming to our house worse than ever. He was there, and Mr. Travers and Sue, all sitting in the parlor where I was behaving, and trying to make things pleasant, when Mr. Travers said, "It's a bright moonlight night let's all go out and coast." Sue said, "O that would be lovely Jimmy get your sled." I didn't encourage them, and I told father so, but he wouldn't admit that Mr. Travers or Sue or Mr. Martin or anybody could do anything wrong. What I said was, "I don't want to go coasting. It's cold and I don't feel very well, and I think we ought all to go to bed early so we can wake up real sweet and good-tempered." But Sue just said, "Don't you preach Jimmy if you're lazy just say so and Mr. Travers will take us out." Then Mr. Martin he must put in and say, "Perhaps the boy's afraid don't tease him he ought to be in bed anyhow." Now I wasn't going to stand this, so I said, "Come on. I wanted to go all the time, but I thought it would be best for old people to stay at home, and that's why I didn't encourage you." So I got out my double-ripper, and we all went out on the hill and started down.

I sat in front to steer, and Sue sat right behind me, and Mr. Travers sat behind her to hold her on, and Mr. Martin sat behind him. We went splendidly, only the dry snow flew so that I couldn't see anything, and that's why we got off the road and on to the side hill before I knew it.

The hill was just one glare of ice, and the minute we struck the ice the sled started away like a hurricane. I had just time to hear Mr. Martin say, "Boy, mind what you're about or I'll get off," when she struck something—I don't know what—and everybody was pitched into the air, and began sliding on the ice without anything to help them except me. I caught on a bare piece of rock, and stopped myself. I could see Sue sitting up straight, and sliding like a streak of lightning, and crying, "Jimmy father Charles Mr. Martin O my help me." Mr. Travers was on his stomach, about a rod behind her, and gaining a little on her, and Mr. Martin was on his back, coming down head first, and beating them both. All of a sudden he began to go to pieces. Part of him would slide off one way, and then another part would try its luck by itself. I can tell you it was an awful and surreptitious sight. They all reached the bottom after a while, and when I saw they were not killed, I tried it myself, and landed all right. Sue was sitting still, and mourning, and saying: "My goodness gracious, I shall never be able to walk again. My comb is broken, and that boy isn't fit to live."

Mr. Travers wasn't hurt very much, and he fixed himself all right with some pins I gave him and his handkerchief; but his overcoat looked as if he'd stolen it from a scarecrow. When he had comforted Sue a little—and I must say some people are perfectly sickening the way they go on—he and I collected Mr. Martin—all except his teeth—and helped put him together, only I got his leg on wrong side first, and then we helped him home.

This was why father said that my conduct was such, and that his friend Martin didn't seem to be able to come into his house without being insulted and injured by me. I never insulted him. It isn't my fault if he can't slide down hill without coming apart. However, I've had my last suffering on account of him. The next time he comes apart where I am I shall not wait to be punished for it, but shall start straight for the North pole; and, if I discover it, the British Government will pay me morna million dollars. I'm able to sit down this morning, but my spirits are crushed, and I shall never enjoy life any more.—Jimmie Brown, in Harper's Young People.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

AS THE STEAMER "WESTERN SLOPE" HAS stopped running rather suddenly, I wish to explain to the public that, having no connection at New Westminster and no freight offering for the latter place either up or down, I was reluctantly compelled to withdraw the boat at once or suffer a loss by keeping her running. I now beg to return my sincere thanks to my friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage extended to me during the past season, and hope for a continuance of their favors the ensuing season, which I expect to commence early in the spring. In the meantime arrangements will be made for a light draught steamer to connect with the Slope on the river, so that freight and passengers may be taken through to Yale without delay early the ensuing season.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholerak Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other formula of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF IRON.

Clear as spring water and tasteless; has the advantage over all ferruginous preparations of containing Iron and Phosphorus, which are the elements of blood. It cures chlorosis, pains in the stomach, difficult digestion, dismenorrhœa, anæmia, general debility and poorness of the blood, and agrees especially with the most delicate stomachs.

WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S DISEASES

No more Cod-Liver Oil.

Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horseradish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the Hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE CHEST, SCROFULA, LYMPHATIC DISORDERS, GREEN SICKNESS, MUSCULAR ATONY and LOSS OF APPETITE. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBSTRUCTION OF THE GLANDS.

GRIMAULT & CO.'S MATICO, CAPSULES AND LIQUID.

Where all other medicines have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. They insure a rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent and chronic cases of private disease. They are used in the Hospitals of Paris by the most celebrated physicians and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies, Copahia and Cubebs. The injection is used in recent, and the capsules in the more chronic cases.

DUSART'S SYRUP OF LACTO-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

TONIC, RECONSTITUENT and DIGESTIVE, of prime order, particularly suitable to FEEBLE SUBJECTS, CONVALESCENTS, OLD PEOPLE and RICKETTY CHILDREN, who find in them CALCAREOUS ELEMENTS entering into the CONSTITUTION OF THE BONES. ## THE COFFERDAM LIABILITY.

For the credit of the province, in justice to the contractors and their creditors it would have been more satisfactory had the claims of Messrs. REED Bros. been adjusted in British Columbia. If these gentlemen have no claim against the province, they would speedily find it out were they allowed the usual course of procedure in the courts. If they have a just claim, then it is a crying shame and disgrace that they have not been allowed to prefer it; a disgrace which in the eyes of capitalists in England and the Eastern Provinces will reduce us in their estimation to comparison with a South American Republic which repudiates its obligations. There can be no excuse. The contractors had the right granted by statute to them and the most humble individual amongst us of instituting their complaint against the government and having it heard. It is a constitutional privilege and the issue of the direction "let right be done" pertains exclusively to the Lieut. Governor and not to the executive council. The statute so directs, and good sense supports the idea that the executive should neither be judges in their own case nor be allowed to refuse a hearing before the courts, of grave complaints against themselves. In view of Messrs. REED Bros. petition of right, the recognition by the legislature of the fact of their having some claim, the undue interference by the government with the prerogative of the ex-Lieutenant-Governor in his consideration of the petition and the ultimate though tardy refusal of the fiat at Mr. WALKEM'S instance, it is only too apparent, the statute is and must be a farce if only to be put in force by those against whom it could ever be used. Such was never the intention of our legislature when the petition of right act was passed. It was intended to be as it is in Ontario (from the statute books of which province it was copied) the means by which claimants whose alleged rights are not admitted by the government, should have as ordinary and practical a remedy against the Crown as one individual has against another. The right beneficiently given has not, so far as we know, been abused by any suitor in this province or elsewhere. In fact, since the Act has been passed we believe only three petitions have been presented. The first was Mr. VOWELL'S, whose claim after a fair hearing was denied by the Supreme Court. The second was Messrs. REED Bros., a fiat in which was refused; and the third that of Mr. JAMES UREN, the fiat for which has been granted and which will in due course come on for hearing. In Mr. VOWELL'S case there was little dispute, except as to the legal rights of the claimant. In Mr. UREN'S case it is simply a money demand, involving no actual bad faith on the part of the government. Messrs. REED Bros. is also a money demand and unless we are mistaken includes claims against the government, arising out of the alleged non-fulfilment by the government of their obligations to the contractors—of delays and gross violations of duty. If it were proper to grant petitions in the former cases why not in that of Messrs. REED Bros? In the ordinary course of human affairs, men, if they have honest causes, are only too glad to meet their adversaries, would never burk investigatition unless afraid of what might be revealed. It is a pity there is no authority for select committees of the legislature taking evidence upon oath and in public. After all there is nothing like full and public investigation before a court of justice. There the parties are confronted; evidence is taken upon oath and sifted—unfair dealing if it has taken place is exposed and malfeasance of office, if such there be, would be dragged under the inquisitorial gaze of public opinion. Maladministration can be cloaked, nay, can be concealed, by witnesses (unsworn) before a committee sitting privately in a lobby room, especially when skilled assistance is absent. The suggestion is probably not without foundation that Mr. WAKLEM'S refusal to grant a trial in REED Brother's case is not owing to an unwillingness on his part to allow their claim to be heard, but because he shrinks from a public investigation, the incidental revelation in which would be to him most unpleasant and dangerous. Such a view gathers force when we learn that arbitration upon the claim has lately been proceeding in England before Messrs. KINIPPLE & MORRIS. The people of this province who are parties interested would have been better satisged had the investigation taken place in B. C. where any one who took sufficient interest might have learnt the merits of the case.

THROUGH TO YALE.

Now that the acerbities of the "Through to Yale" contest are quieted down, it may not be uninteresting to review the results of the seasons work. In spite of the strongest opposition of the powerful would be monopolists of carrying trade between this port and the head of navigation; and in spite of all the discouragements of lukewarm friends, the Western Slope, crippled as she was with a load of debt, commenced her through trips and continued them without a mishap of any sort worth mentioning up to the time of going into winter quarters a few days ago; and she is now ready to be hauled out, to all appearances, as sound and as seaworthy as when she came off the ways eight or nine months ago. She made 62 through trips to Yale and several trips to New Westminster before being laid up, and six or seven more might have been made had she been off the ways soon enough in the spring. During these 62 runs to Yale and back entending nearly to the middle of the present month, detentions on aecount of rough weather on the gulf only amounted to about six hours. Thus the principal plank in the platform of the opposition that a steamer of the Slope's build could not cross the gulf safely as a rule, has been most effectually knocked away by actual experiment through several months of all sorts of weather. The season's work has been a most satisfactory one to her energetic captain and his family, but had they been able to control a light draft steamer of the type of the little Gertrude they might have continued running as long as the river remains clear of ice. The Slope could now be making profitable trips as far as Chilliwhack and giving all the lower Fraser settlers the benefit of the through route, had such a vessel been placed at Capt. Moore's disposal. For some time after through trips were commenced shippers were very slow in extending their patronage, giving as their excuse that early in the season the Slope would discontinue going to Yale in consequence of the shallowness of the river bars above Sumass, and that they would perforce have to go back to the old line. This idea operated so disadvantageously that for some time light freights were offered. From the commencement she secured the lion's share of the passenger traffic; and this patronage was well merited by the regularity and punctuality of her arrivals and departures. A light draft steamer, therefore, to take Victoria freight at Sumass or Chilliwhack is all that is required to complete what has been so successfully and so satisfactorily begun; and such a desideratum will be procured for the early spring trade. This will enable the Slope to make several trips before the water gets high enough to admit of her going to Yale, and besides this steamer will be a sort of reserve vessel on the river through the whole season. It is unnecessary to enumerate the many advantages which the through route has conferred upon the people of this city. Merchants, traders, hotel-keepers and indeed business men of all sorts have been benefitted and will continue to be benefitted in an ever-increasing ratio by keeping up the scheme that has been so successfully begun and its feasibility so fully demonstrated. The people of Yale, too, are sharers to a very great degree in these advantages. Their orders are filled and their goods arrive without transhipment and without delay in from 24 to 30 hours from the time the telegraphic order is sent down. They are enabled to get to this city in 12 or 15 hours, transact business and reach home again in about two days. Nor are any of the settlers on the river below Yale uninterested in this through arrangement. They save time when compelled to travel, their supplies are forwarded promptly and safely, and their mail matter might, could, would or should be delivered much more satisfactorily than it has hitherto been, if the P. O. authorities would avail themselves of the increased facilities placed within their reach by this service. Altogether the outlook for next season's through business is a most favorable one. Many discouragements have been overcome; public confidence in the gallant craft that has done so well is now strong and on the increase; and should no untoward event occur the net results of another year's transactions will be so beneficial to this city that people will wonder how they ever did without a Through to Yale line.

Eastern Canada Mail.

[Per steamer North Pacific.]

The returns of the elections held in the province of Quebec on Friday, 2nd inst., show results that it is safe to say neither party was prepared for. Such a sweeping political victory has not been known in any part of the country since the celebrated 17th of September which witnessed Sir John Macdonald's return to power. Of the sixty constituencies from which returns had been received up to the hour of going to press, forty-four have sent supporters of Mr. Chapleau to represent them in the Provincial Assembly. So far the Opposition have a beggarly array of eleven members, the remaining five coming under the significant head of "independent," but it is expected that when the Premier of Quebec meets the House he will find himself at the head of a majority of something like thirty-five.—Mail.

Supreme Court.

SATURDAY, Dec. 17.

The argument in the cases of Mrs. Morgan and others brought before the court on a writ of habeas corpus was continued yesterday before Mr. Justice Gray.

Mr. Theodore Davie contended that the objection to the information went to the jurisdiction of the magistrate as without a sufficient information he had no power to enter upon the enquiry, and the court above would examine the proceedings anterior to conviction with a view to ascertaining if the proceedings were coram judice, and would even receive affidavits impeaching the jurisdiction, citing Re Egguiston 2, E. & B. 729. Reg. v. Salmon and Reg. v. Playfair decided by the present tribunal. The facts found by the magistrate showed an isolated sale, not the carrying on of a business, and the court while accepting his finding upon the facts would reject his conclusions if contrary to law. The point as to disqualification was perhaps the weakest objection. The case of Reg. v. Rand 19 B. D. was relied upon in this connection. It was immaterial whether the penalty was in respect of a tax or license as either must be imposed by the legislature and no power of delegation existed. If the license or tax were created by a delegated power it was invalid. Reg. v. Hodge 46 U. C. C. B. 141. If on the other hand no power to pass the bylaw had been delegated the bylaw under which the conviction took place was void as being without authority. It was contended that under the Municipal Act passed before confederation there was no power to collect any other tax or license than $20 trade license, $2.50 on dogs and $2 on horses. The cases cited in which Municipal taxation had been upheld had been challenged only on the ground that the tax interfered with trade and commerce, and the present point as to delegation had not been raised. The conviction in this case proceeded on the bylaw, and it was not competent for the prosecution to shift their ground and claim under the licenses act. Blake v. Beech, L. R. 1 Ex. D. 323.

Mr. Drake replied.

His Lordship reserved judgment.

[A typographical error occurred in our report yesterday of Mr. Drake's argument. The report make the learned counsel to state his impression to be that the local legislature "has" power to limit the jurisdiction of a Supreme Court judge to a particular locality. The report should have read "that the local legislature has 'not' the power, &c."]

Good News.

Mr. A. Ofner, corner Government and Fort streets, has just received 1000 cases of best American Coal Oil, which he will sell at reduced prices. Also, a choice variety of Christmas Goods.

Orders from the trade are solicited. *

MONDAY EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT.—The award of the prizes to the successful competitors to-morrow evening at the Mechanic's Literary Institute by his honor the Lieut. Governor, and the reading of the prize poems, and conundrums, will doubtless attract a numerous audience. It is quite clear the committee have been indefatigable in their endeavors to make it a success. It would seem the invitations for contributions have been well responded to, and the productions generally, and more especially the prize poems reflect credit upon the authors. Admission 50 cts.. Reserved seats without additional charge.

STRANGE FATALITY.—During the present week no less than five children of very tender age have died in this city and Wellington. It is a strange fatality for they all died of different complaints. The late epidemic of scarlet fever has entirely died out in this district, and it appears to have also disappeared from all localities in this province and Washington Territory.—Free Press.

GREAT joy entered the household of Mrs. Harrigan, 172 E. One Hundred and Thirty-second street, New York, when her little boy, who had been pronounced hopelessly incurable from severe inflammatory rheumatism by the doctors, was entirely cured by a single bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, kindly brought by a friend interested in the case.

FROM THE SOUND.—The steamer North Pacific arrived from the Sound at 12:30 yesterday afternoon with mails, passengers and a light freight.

FOUND.—A small silver watch has been found and can be had by applying to Superintendent O'Connor and proving property.

Municipal Police Court.

[Before Hon. A. F. Pemberton.]

SATURDAY, Dec. 17.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLIES.

Two inebriates, white men, pleaded guilty to the charge of being too much under the influence of liquor and were fined the usual five shillings.

ANOTHER VAGRANT AND A DISORDERLY ONE.

Joseph Kelly pleaded not guilty to the charge of being a vagrant, but he was drunk and likely used bad language when arrested.

Officer Hough stated that the prisoner used very abusive language before he was arrested and also in the California saloon; shortly afterwards as witness was standing on the opposite side of the street prisoner and Berry, one of the d. and d.'s, clinched each other and both were arrested by Officer Farrell and witness; he called the police all sorts of hard names while going to gaol.

Prisoner was not very respectful in Court and was warned of the consequences of such behavior. He asserted that he was no vagrant but worked hard for his money.

Supt. O'Connor stated that the prisoner was the party who came down from Yale a short time ago and confessed to the murder of a man near Spuzzum. He was also one of the seven who interfered with the police in the Manetta robbery affair, and was continually drunk and giving trouble, but had not been charged in the police court before.

His Honor remarked that the offence was not a very serious one and he would therefore inflict a light fine of $10 or in default 14 days' imprisonment with hard labor. The prisoner was advised to mend his ways and not get into further trouble or he would not be so leniently dealt with.

New Westminster.

C. H. Gamsby, Esq., C.P.R.S., leaves this morning en route for Ottawa. He will sail from Victoria by the steamer of the 20th inst.

The Maple Ridge Municipal Council have decided upon the surrender of the Letters Patent under which they have been acting, in order to avail themselves of the more complete Act of last session.

When the steamer Wm. Irving landed from Yale on Wednesday with her cargo of 153 cattle, it was found that twelve of them were dead or dying. These poor animals had become exhausted from heat and crowding, and, falling down, were trampled to death. It is certainly worthy the earnest consideration of both carriers and stock-men, whether the condition of affairs on board could not be improved by dividing the space allotted to cattle into smaller compartments, with fewer cattle in each, and by adopting more effective means for the supply of fresh air. At any rate, it is to be hoped that the sickening sight witnessed on Wednesday may not be repeated. The loss to the owner is considerable; but that is less than a feather's-weight compared with the terrible cruelty to the poor animals.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. A. C. Elliott.

The remains of this estimable lady were laid in their last resting place in a brick vault, near that of Sir James Douglas in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the weather quite a number of friends and members of the Pioneer Society assembled at the house of Mr. James W. Douglas at 1 o'clock and proceeded from thence to the Reformed Episcopal Church where a large number of people had already assembled. The Right Rev. Bishop Cridge read the funeral service and the choir sang the 14th hymn "Son of my Soul," &c. The corpse was then removed to the hearse and the mournful cortege wended its way to Ross Bay cemetery where the body was interred. The coffin was covered with flowers in the shape of wreaths, crosses, &c., presented by sympathizing friends. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: R. Finlayson, J. B. Matthews, Ld. Loewenburg, P. O'Reilly, D. Lenevue, Thos. Charles, Thos. Elwyn, A. W. Vowell, Capt. H. M. Ball and Wm. Fisher. The funeral was conducted by Mr. Chas. Hayward.

The Churches.

The annual services of the Reformed Episcopal church takes place to-day, the Rev. Mr. Stevens of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, will occupy the pulpit in the morning and the Right Rev. Bishop Cridge in the evening. Special collections will be taken up at both services in aid of church funds with a view of paying up a balance of $895.23, which is overdue.

AN ALMOST IMPASSABLE ROAD.—The Saanich people complain bitterly of the condition of the road between the Royal Oak and Simpson's in South Saanich. It is asserted that less than $10 has been spent upon it during the current year, and the consequence is that teams can scarcely get along with more than an empty wagon. Farmers in the district while floundering through the mud holes should make a note of the government neglect to which they have been subjected, and next summer send representatives to the legislature who will do something in making good roads and developing the resources of the country.

A RUMOR.—It is rumored, on pretty good authority, that another fine passenger steamer with accommodations equal to those of the Geo. W. Elder, will soon be placed on the route between San Francisco and Puget Sound, and in conjunction with the Elder make weekly trips up and down the coast, performing the work of the Dakota and City of Chester, but making more frequent trips. The Elder has fine passenger accommodations, and there is no doubt that with a ship equal or superior to alternate with her, a fine passenger trade could be built up between the Sound and San Francisco.—Post-Intelligencer.

ALL beds seem hard to the rheumatic. Then harken, ye peevish sufferers! Apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to your aching joints and muscles. Rely on it that you will experience speedy relief. Such, at least is the testimony of those who have used it. The remedy is likewise successfully resorted to in for throat and lung diseases, sprains, bruises, etc. 16

CREDITABLE. — Something over $350 was netted for the B. C. Benevolent Society at the entertainment held in Philharmonic Hall on Thursday evening last. This speaks well for the smypathy felt by the community for such a deserving charity and also for the popularity or the society in question.

THE WRECK.—Unfavorable weather is interfering with the strenuous efforts that are being made to float the stranded barque. Should a storm not come up today it is expected that she will be lifted and taken safely into Esquimalt harbor.

Othello.

This tragedy was performed by the Sheridan combination at Seattle on Friday night. The Post-Intelligencer speaks of it as follows:—

This great Shakespearian masterpiece was rendered before a crowded house last evening by the Sheridan combination in a manner that reflects credit upon the management and the troupe. Mr. Sheridan in the title role added fresh laurels to his already brilliant reputation as a powerful and popular tragedian. Harry Colton as Iago made his first appearance before a Seattle audience and met with much favor. He is an actor of experience and ability. W. T. Doyle, as Cassio, did very well, and Willie Simms as Roderigo made quite a hit and is well adapted to the part. The other male members of the troupe did fairly. Miss Lou Davenport as Desdemona did admirably and won favor with the entire audience, who were charmed with her pleasing and graceful acting, though many wonder how such a charming little body could fall in love with that great black Moore, Othello, who "loved not wisely, but too well." Miss Nellie Holbrook, the leading lady of troupe, sustained the difficult part of Emelia in a very creditable manner, and will probably become a favorite with our people.

The box sheet at Redfern's will only be open from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 5 to 7 p. m.

FROM NEW WESTMINSTER.—Steamer Enterprise arrived from the mainland at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the mails, passengers, 20 head of cattle for Van Volkenburgh & Co. and a light general freight.

FURTHER PROROGATION.—Yesterday's Gazette has a notice proroguing the House of Assembly to the 10th prox., but not then to meet for the dispatch of business.

HOLIDAY SALE.—J. P. Davies & Co. will hold their annual holiday sale on Tuesday when everybody will have an opportunity of getting everything that may be required for the holiday season.

The Premier's Patronage of the Mechanics' Institute.

TO THE EDITOR.—Not a few members of the Mechanics' Institute are surprised at the action of the committee or the president in soliciting the patronage of a political partizan at the forthcoming entertainment. The question has been asked over and over again what has Mr. Walkem ever done for the Institute? Has he ever been a member? Has he ever contributed one dollar to its funds? Has he ever assisted it in any way, shape or form during the 16 or 17 years of its existence? The answer to each of these queries is an emphatic NO! Then another query suggests itself. What object has the doughty premier in thus, at the eleventh hour of his political career coming forward as the patron of an institution that he has given the cold shoulder to for the greater portion of two decades? Has the approaching and inevitable general election anything to do with it? Is he seeking to make electioneering capital, or what is the motive? Dr. Johnson's remarks in his celebrated letter to Lord Chesterfield, which, as the "Sage of Chelsea" says, sounded the death knell of all literary patronage are applicable to the Institute which has survived "without one act of assistance, one word of encouragement or one small favor" from Mr G. A. B. Walkem; he is just such a patron as Johnson refers to "who looks with unconcern on a man struggling for life in the water and when he has reached land encumbers him with help."

All are pleased that our popular Lieut. Governor is taking an interest in the Institute, but it was a mistake and a serious one, to introduce politics in this way into the institution that is supposed to be strictly nonpolitical.

Did the Church of England Originate with Henry VIII.?

TO THE EDITOR:—In the time of Alfred the Great a lease for a piece of land to be used for military purposes for the term of 999 years which has recently expired and the estate has now reverted to the party which leased it, was executed from the church to the crown viz., the Church of England.

In law, on the expiration of a lease, the property reverts to the original owner, or lessor, or legal heirs.

This fact is an absolute demonstration and will furnish a kind of argument for those who either will not or cannot understand ordinary church history and assert that the English church is a creation of Henry VIII.

COLUMBIA CHURCHMAN.

DEATH IN THE COFFEE POT.—The public are cautioned against purchasing imported California ground coffee. Its cheapness is its only recommendation. The ingredients are of the vilest description, as anyone using it will discover should he examine the grounds. During the perihelia of the planets people should be careful what they eat and drink. Don't allow your grocer to palm off his trash upon you, because it pays him better to sell it than the good article. Ask for FELL & Co.'s Coffee and take no other. *

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EUROPE.

VIENNA, Dec. 14.—The ruins of the burned theatre have been thoroughly disinfected. The first outbreaks of fire last night and to day were speedily extinguished. A number of corpse and fragments of bodies were recovered to-day. The king and queen of Italy subscribed $1000.

VIENNA, Dec. 15.—The manager of the ill-fated Ring theatre for several hours yesterday was subjected to examination regarding the calamity.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—In consequence of the Vienna fire disaster the lord chamberlain has requested managers of theatres to separate the system of lighting the auditorium from that of the stage.

Astley speaking to the constituency at Ventor last evening, hoped the present powers of the government in Ireland would be sufficient, but that if when parliament assembled it would be necessary to ask further powers he believed that the great liberal constituencies would be willing to accord them.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Clerical journals say in Rome that the question of the Pope's departure is seriously mooted.

DUBLIN, Dec. 15.—Land commissioners in hearing appeals, only consider questions of legal interpretation, and valuation.

Dillon has been indirectly informed he could at once obtain liberation, by promising to leave Ireland. He refuses to give the pledge.

Home rulers in Paris speak of putting forward O'Donnovan, correspondent of the "Daily News," as a candidate for parliament. It is stated he will be asked to go on a lecturing tour in the United States.

Many copies of "United Ireland" have been seized in Cork.

Several hundred tenant farmers ploughed Parnell's farm at Avondale, Wicklow county, and performed all other work thereon. Departing they cheered Parnell, Dillon and Father Sheehy.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The steamer Eros was sunk in collision off Liverpool. Three of the crew are missing.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 15.—There is now a firm conviction at the palace, that an offensive and defensive alliance will shortly be concluded with Germany, that state having the commanding political influence that England once possessed.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—A strike has occurred among miners at Grade-Comb coal pits and disturbances taken place. Troops are confined to the barracks.

MADRID, Dec. 15.—A sentry guarding the prison at Malaga noticed an Englishman walking around the walls and challenged him five times. The latter, not understanding the challenge remained silent, whereupon the sentry shot him dead. Military authorities are investigating the case.

BERLIN, Dec. 15.—Count De St. Valier, had a farewell audience with the emperor to-day. The emperor gave a grand banquet in his honor this evening.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 16.—Reliable returns have been received here from the State election in Salisco, but it is not possible at present to indicate how the election went. This is due in a great measure to the bitter rivalry existing between opposing political parties, which culminated during election day, the 10th inst., at a number of voting places throughout the State, in bloodshed.

TORONTO, Dec. 15.—Hanlan and Boyd will row a race on the Tyne for £500 a side, April 3, 1882.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The 'Times' says it is not likely England or any European state will be tempted to meddle with the affairs of South America, but such intervention might be necessary if European interests be affected. It must not be imagined that European powers can acquiesce in the very wide extension of the Monroe doctrine implied in Blaine's dispatch. Intervention for the protection of European interests is as rightfully claimed by European powers as it is by the United States for the protection of their interests in China and Japan.

The 'St. James Gazette' this evening says there is nothing in Blaine's dispatches with which it would be reasonable or profitable for European governments to find fault; but there is much cause for reflection that Europe will have in the future to regard the United States as having a foreign policy of their own, although that policy may only concern South America, yet considering the commercial ties between South America and Europe it may cross and confuse the policy of European governments in some ways and to an extent now only faintly foreseen.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Lord Lorne presided to-day at a meeting held for the encouragement of emigration of women to Canada.

VIENNA, Dec. 13.—On removing some of the debris from the ruins of the theatre to-day additional bodies were discovered in a good state of preservation. Information received up to 11 this morning shows that 50 persons reported missing still survive, but these 50 are counterbalanced by the omission of the names of persons who are really missing. Investigation into the cause of the disaster is being made by a tribunal for criminal offenses apart from that instituted by police authorities. It is intended to examine persons who have contributed to newspapers statements of their experience on the night of the fire.

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—Kelly, town counsellor of Tralie, was arrested after leaving a meeting in aid of the suspect maintenance fund at the rotunda, charged with intimidation. Kelly was previously imprisoned for holding a land league court at his house.

In consequence of opposition to a scheme for an industrial exhibition in Dublin, a strong movement is on foot to carry out the project at Belfast.

It is understood that landlords will soon meet to express indignation at the working of the land act and demand compensation.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—The reichstag has approved the bill for a new parliament house. In consequence of some chambers of commerce issuing unfavorable reports regarding the new protective tariff, Bismarck has ordered the chambers to submit their annual reports to the government before publication. The newspaper controversy between Bismarck and Winthorst has put an end to a present parliamentary coalition between conservatives and clericals. The political situation is darker than ever.

PARIS, Dec. 12.—The chambers of commerce of Paris, Lyons, St. Eteinne, Bordeaux, Macon, Calmat, Rochelle, Montpellier, Grenoble, Angoulomme, Bayonne, Nancy, Havre and Marseilles pronounce in favor of negotiations for a Franco-American treaty of commerce.

The minister of marine has formed a project for prolonging breakwaters at Cherbourg so as to include the roadstead. The works will cost 40,000,000 francs.

ROME, Dec. 84.—Macculloso, who threw a revolver at Depratis, prime minister, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment on the island of Irchia, with a small fine.

The pope has named Cardinal Howard to succeed the late Cardinal Edward Borromeo.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—Paul Bert, minister of public instruction and worship, has written all the prelates who attended the recent canonization ceremony in Rome reminding them of the provisions of the concordat requiring them to obtain permission of the government before leaving their dioceses.

TUNIS, Dec. 14.—Italy has approved the conduct of the Italian council in protesting against French occupation of Tunis, and refused to withdraw the protest. Italian authorities continue to ignore the French protectorate and have sent a vessel of war to Susa.

EASTERN STATES.

LEAVENWORTH, Dec. 14.—Ghris Gibson, who has been a government scout for 35 years, reported to Gen. Pope yesterday. He says there is no doubt there will be an uprising of Utes, Piutes and Navajos in the spring. Their rendezvous will probably be at some place in New Mexico. The Utes who have been placed in Utah, he says, are being freely furnished with arms and provisions by Mormons, who are affiliating with the Indians and giving them all the whiskey they want.

SCITUATE, Mass., Dec. 14.—Rebecca Bates died to-day, aged 86. Miss Bates and cousin, Abbie, were the two girls who hid behind rocks with a fife and drum and sounded the roll-call when several boat loads of British troops were about to make a landing and caused them to return to the man-of-war in 1812. Abbie still lives, aged 83.

CHYENNE, Dec. 14.—Three cars containing 250,000 cards of silk worm eggs, each car having 30,000 eggs, passed east to-day; total value, $260,000. The eggs come from Japan and are bound for Milan, Italy. Formerly shipments were made via India. Four Italian merchants have charge of the precious cargo.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Five overdue steamships arrived to-day; one the Somerset, being 27 days out from Bristol in terrific gales. Her first and third officers and eight seamen were disabled.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Another disastrous freshet is reported in the Sangamon river, in Illinois, caused by recent heavy rains.

The gap in the Northern Pacific railroad between Montana and Oregon is now less than 700 miles wide and will be almost closed by 1882. The party were received at Fort Keogh by Gen. Whistler and his officers, who escorted their guests to headquarters where the band serenaded them. The weather is mild and over 5000 men are at work laying the track of the Northern Pacific railroad westward.

ARIZONA.

TOMBSTONE, Dec. 15.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate John P. Clum, mayor of the city last night. A band of armed men fired on him while in a stage en route to Tucson. The driver was wounded and one of the horses killed. Mr. Clum escaped without injury. No attempt was made to rob the stage and the assault is supposed to be the outgrowth of the recent cowboy tragedy, since which threats have been made against the life of Clum by Earp brothers and Halliday, who were engaged in the tragedy.

TUSCON, Dec. 16.—A special to the "Citizen" dated at Deming says Wells, Fargo & Co.'s car was enterad five miles west of El Paseo last night. Agent C. E. Barnard was bucked and gagged, his keys taken and the contents of chest stolen. The loss is between $2000 and $3000. The agent remained gagged twenty minutes until relieved by a brakesmen. The old-style car is used which affords no protection to the agent.

OREGON.

THE DALLES, Dec. 15.—A shooting affray occurred at Prineville last Sunday night in which Charlie Long was shot four times—once through the arm, once through the left shoulder (breaking it near the joint), once through the breast and a ball entered the left side ranging forward of the spine. Henry Vaughn was shot twice through the body above the left nipple and received a scalp wound on the head. Both are dangerously if not fatally wounded, though resting easily on the morning of the 12th.

GAS METRES may be prevented from freezing by means of METHYLATED SPIRITS. May be had at LANGLEY & Co.'s, Yates street, $2 50 per gallon. *

THE HERITAGE OF MAN.

A LIFE OF TOIL AND TROUBLE FOR HIS BOARD AND CLOTHES,

To which the prudent man will naturally ask: Where can I do the best for my money? ECHO answers: For Clothing and Furnishing Goods go to Factory Store, corner Government and Johnson streets, where Cloths and Flannels are received direct from the mill and manufactured on the premises. Such beautifully made large sized Flannel Undershirts and Drawers are to be found nowhere else in the province. Men's, Boys and Children's Suits from the cheapest to the best, Hats, Caps, &c., in fact, everything from a coarse tweed suit to a fancy ballroom rig-out can be found here.

S. H. GLOVER,
* Agent for Scotland Woolen Mills.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.

Unlike all other Hair Dressings

Is the best for promoting the growth of and beautifying the hair, and rendering it dark and glossy. The COCOAINE holds, in a liquid form, a large proportion of deodorized Cocoanut Oil, prepared expressly for this purpose. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair.

The superiority of BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS consists in their perfect purity and great strength. *

1882. Lotts' Diaries. 1882

Just received and for sale a full assortment in all the various numbers for sale by

M. W. WAITT & Co. *

HONESTY is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled spring medicine and blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others in the market. Trial proves it. *
